"FIRECRACKERLESS" FOURTH FAVORED BY MAYOR McCLEERY

Order Issued to Police to Stop All Firecracker Shooting on Streets, Sidewalks and Alleys of Newark on the Nation's Birthday.

Mayor S. H. McCleery is a strong advocate of the "fire-crackerless" Fourth of July, and if his Honor has his way about the matter, there will be radical improvements to note in Newark on Wednesday. Orders have just been issued to the police to stop the shooting of all explosives of any nature on the streets or alleys of the city. This includes the sidewalks, so if one wants to "celebrate" the glorious Fourth he will have to hide himself away to the woods or fields where blue coats and brass buttons are unknown.

A local merchant called at the Mayor's office Monday morning to have the line controlling the sale and use of the fireworks fully defined. He was told that his customers must be informed not to use any of the fireworks on the streets under penalty of arrest. All the crackers, rockets and candles together with the blank cartridge pistols must be taken to the country or to the homes before being used.

This order will do away with the biggest part of the amusement of the Fourth for some people. There will be no more dynamite canes to be exploded in close proximity to women and children or no firecrackers thrown under the feet of the horses to cause runaways.

In speaking of the order, the Mayor said: "I think if I am still in this office by the next Fourth, I shall advocate the passage of an ordinance which will forbid the sale of any sort of fireworks on or before the Fourth. Please understand now that I am not opposed to any celebration of the anniversary of the Nation's birth, but I think it should be done right. This is business of allowing some young

MAYOR TOUCHED BY TWO LETTERS

PRISONERS BEG TO BE FREED FROM JAIL AND REQUESTS WILL BE GRANTED.

Wehrle Wants Out July 20 to Pay Tax—Miller Gets Away on July Fourth.

Mayor McCleery received two pathetic communications Monday morning from the county jail. One was from John Wehrle, who was sent over several days ago for petit larceny. The other was from Jimmie Miller, one of the hoboes who was arrested in a box car south of the city.

Wehrle asked to be released from jail on July 20 as he wanted to collect some rent to pay his taxes. The mayor stated that inasmuch as July 20 was his birthday anniversary, he would celebrate it by granting Wehrle's request. Miller claimed that he was suffering from rheumatism and that his life on the stone floors at the county jail made it worse. He asked to be released on July 4. The mayor thought it fitting to celebrate the Nation's birthday anniversary and ordered Miller's release on that day on condition that Miller should leave the city and never return unless at some future date he be elected to the presidency of the nation whose birthday his release celebrated.

Charles McNally of Zanesville was unfortunate enough to think that a few "dreams" would help him when he was arraigned before Mayor McCleery on a charge of train riding. His imagination was good but the mayor refused to be taken in. He drew a fine of $5 and costs.

Mayor McCleery had an experience Monday morning with a young man in police court who was charged with insulting a woman, Lena Steffe, on the square while being drunk. C. A. Johnson was arrested by Officer Sunk when he persisted in accompanying the Steffe girl and her friend to Idlewild Park. The girl objected because Johnson was drunk.

Johnson pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk and of insulting a woman. He drew a fine of $5 on each charge and the costs. The young man wore a valuable diamond ring and suggested that he leave the ring as security while he went for some money. He turned the ring over to the chief of police with the remark: "I suppose you will have that set changed before I see it again." Sheridan ordered the man locked up after the remark and for a time refused to grant him permission to go after funds.

PATTISON LETTER TO W. T. COBB

DEAR TO DEAD EXECUTIVE WAS STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

One of Gov. Pattison's Last Acts Was to Write to Governor Cobb of Maine.

Columbus, O., July 2.—What is believed to be one of the last letters written by the late Governor John M. Pattison upon a public matter has just come to light. It was penned at Christ Hospital, in Cincinnati, on June 5, or about two weeks before his death, and was addressed to Governor William T. Cobb, of Maine. Its subject was the enforcement of law, a thing very dear to the dead chief executive, and was prompted by the stand taken by Governor Cobb in the matter of the prohibition law of that state.

Since the governor's death a copy of the communication has been received in this city and made public. It is interesting in that it shows that Governor Pattison had not receded from the advance ground taken in his campaign speeches, and his inaugural address of last January. Had he lived and been able to administer the affairs of the office there is no question but that he would have used his power for the enforcement of the Sabbath and liquor laws to the fullest extent. The letter in full is as follows:

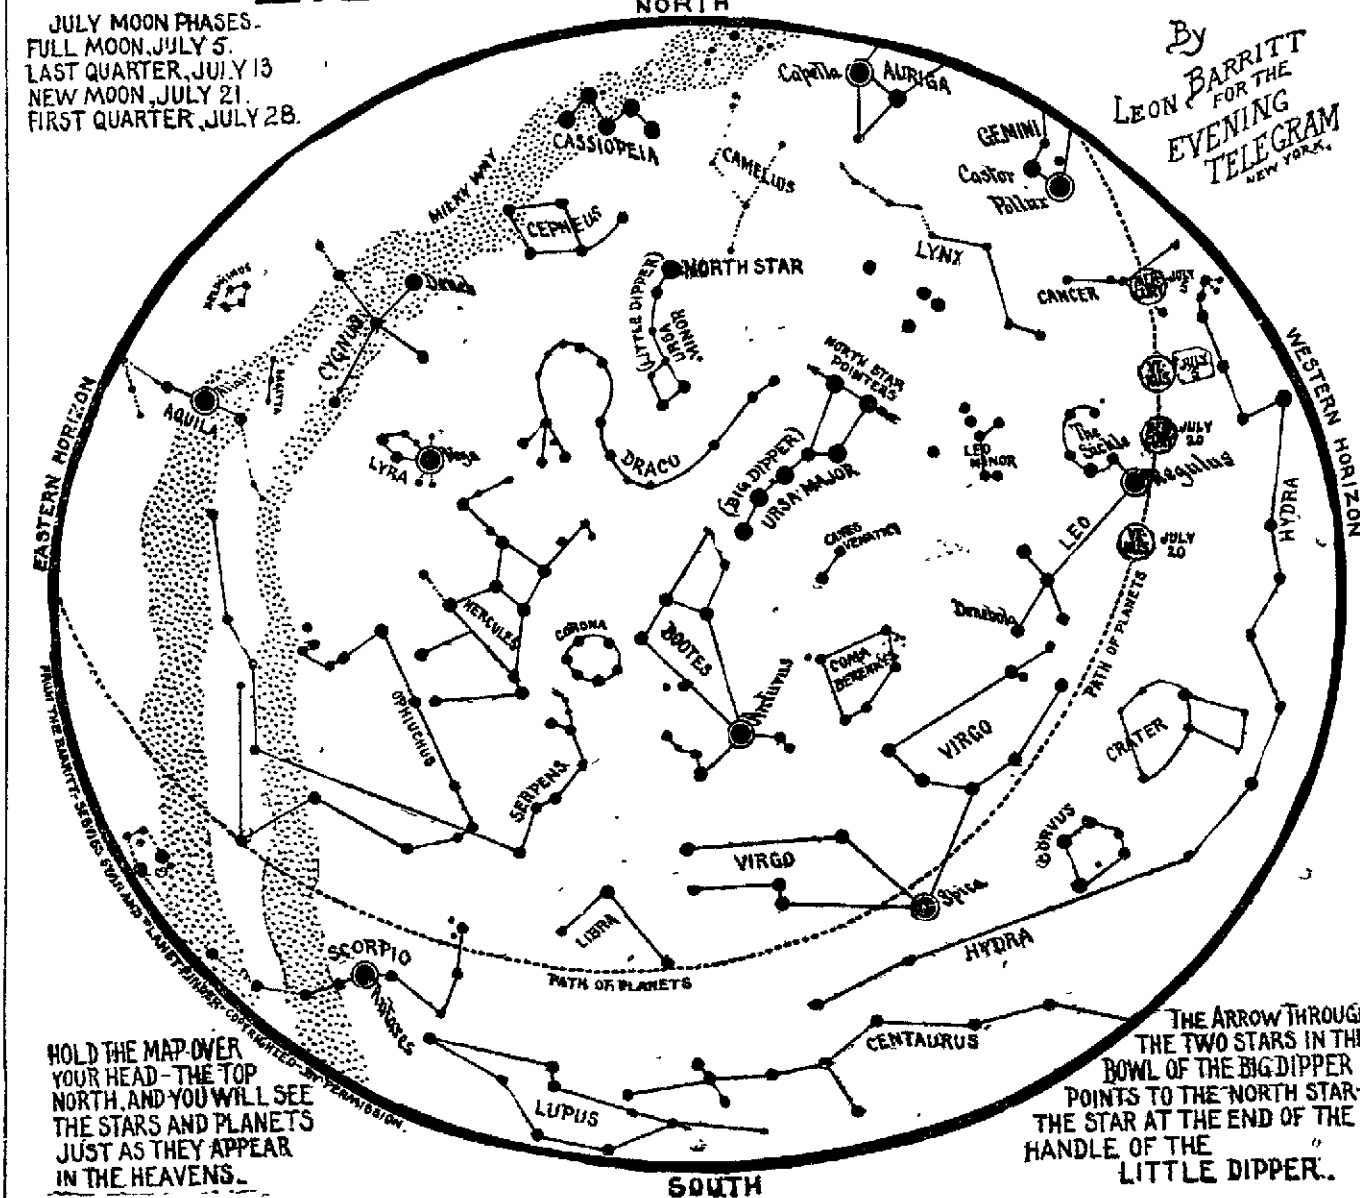

"Cincinnati, O., June 5, 1906: 'My Dear Governor Cobb: I have just had the pleasure of reading the address which you delivered before the Deering Republican Club several weeks ago. It certainly puts the issue in your state in a masterful way, and though I differ from you on the principles that divide the Republican and Democratic schools of political thought, I cannot refrain from expressing my profound admiration for the firm and patriotic stand you have taken in behalf of the Maine law and its proper enforcement.'

"Every patriotic and honest citizen must admit that all the laws on the statute books of the state should be obeyed and enforced; no one citizen has more right than any other to select what he will obey and what he will not obey. If he fails to obey them he is not a good nor patriotic citizen, and an officer who has taken an oath to enforce the ordinances of a village or a city and the laws of the state and fails to do so, should at once be removed.

"This doctrine I tried to emphasize in my inaugural address. The lack of respect for law is one of the evils of the times, and all people who are patriotic and who believe in a stable form of government should realize that no form of government can exist without law, and no republic can continue except on the foundation of strict obedience to law and a proper administration of justice. The dignity of the law must be maintained or the republic will decay. Lincoln said that 'reverence for law should be the religion of the nation.' This was but a strong way of expressing his idea upon the subject of law enforcement. All Christian people, irrespective of sect or creed, should be in favor of law and order and should be opposed to lawlessness.

"I feel sure that the results of your temperance legislation, as shown by your criminal and economic statistics in comparison with those of other states, have remonstrated the wisdom of your policy for Maine and your ringing challenge to the good citizenship of your state to support a faithful administration of the laws places you in line with this cherishing way of reform which is sweeping over the country in all directions, and which is essentially non-partisan. I indulge in the belief it is not transient, and I hope it will be sufficiently strong in the state of Maine to sustain you royally in your praiseworthy course.

"You are entitled to and I hope will receive the support of all good citizens of Maine in the next campaign, during which I understand that the indorsement of your position will be one of the leading issues.

"With assurance of high regard and best wishes, I am, sincerely yours

"JOHN M. PATTISON.

"Hon. Wm. T. Cobb, Governor of Maine, Augusta, Maine."

S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

The healthy color of the skin is given to it by the millions of little red corpuscles in the blood. These are the carriers of nourishment, health and strength to all parts of the body—in other words the very life of the blood. When the germs of Malaria get into this vital fluid they destroy these corpuscles and rob the blood of its rich, life-sustaining qualities, rendering it thin, weak and watery and unable to supply the system with the needed strength to resist disease. Then the symptoms of Malaria such as pale, sallow complexion, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, a general "let down" condition of the system, and perhaps chills and slight fever, show that this insidious disease is gradually affecting the entire health. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and the medicine to accomplish this is S. S. S. It not only cleanses the blood of all impure, unhealthy matter, but rids the system of Malaria, and restores the blood to a strong, healthy condition. S. S. S., besides removing the germs of Malaria, builds up and gives tone and vigor to the entire system by its fine tonic effects. Malaria is a blood disease, and S. S. S. cures it because it is a perfect blood purifier. Book on the blood and any medical advice without charge.

AN EPOCH MAKING SESSION

How the Fifty-ninth Congress Has Met the New Issues Initiated by President Roosevelt, With Extension of Federal Powers as the Dominant Note.

By EDWIN S. POTTER

PROBABLY more new and extraordinary questions have been under consideration by the congress which began its legislative life Dec. 4 last than by any previous session of our national lawmaking body. Not counting the many acts favorably reported to or passed by either branch and left in a state of suspended animation, their fate to be determined by the next session, the amount and character of new laws enacted make the Fifty-ninth congress the milestone of a new era in the history of American institutions.

The day of the nation has come; state and local powers are on the wane or in small favor. Commercial and industrial concentration having brought about new opportunities for abuse of privilege, and the muck rakers having walked up the public mind to the various existing evils, President Roosevelt found in this congress workable soil for the growth of federal powers in dealing with those evils. The impress of the president's mind was given to all the more important remedies adopted. Neither friend nor foe in the political arena will question the statement that the work of the session bears the Rooseveltian stamp, although the Democrats all along have pointed out that the president was merely carrying along the trail blazed by their party platforms. Nevertheless the president's party, being in the majority at both ends of the capital, has either taken the credit or been forced to assume responsibility for what was done, even when aided by Democratic votes.

Railroad Rate Regulation.

The keynote was struck unmistakably in the message which congress received at the opening of the session—namely, the insistence on federal fixing of interstate railroad rates as well as the prevention of rebates or any kind of special favors. Rate bills of various kinds and descriptions were promptly introduced in both senate and house; but, the house majority being under better discipline, the bill was more promptly formulated there, which was approved at the White House. It was fathered by Representative Hepburn of Iowa as chairman of the committee on interstate commerce. It was so modified in the committee as to come before the house without Democratic opposition, and after a few days of perfunctory discussion it was passed on Feb. 8 by the almost unanimous vote of 346 to 7, the seven opponents all being Republicans. As passed it gave the interstate commerce commission full power to regulate interstate freight tariffs without express recognition of the rights of appeal in the court. This, however, was only the foundation of the law that was to go to the statute book.

In the senate the Hepburn bill was destined to run the gauntlet of fierce opposition from a conservative faction of the Republicans led by Aldrich and Foraker and become the football of personal and party bickering over a period of three months. The main point of the dispute was the question of a broad or narrow court review provision, and at one time, after the president's political and personal enmity, Tillman had been placed in charge of the measure, there was a tacit coalition between the president and the minority. Later, however, the president accepted the compromise Allison amendment, upon which his party associates had agreed, vesting jurisdiction in the circuit courts to enjoin, set aside, annul or suspend any order of the commission on appeal of the carrier concerned. It was at this time that the Democratic leaders charged the president with bad faith on the strength of representations made to have been made through ex-Senator Chandler. Finally the bill, with sixty-seven amendments, passed the senate May 18 by a vote of 71 to 27. Still further changes were made in conference thereafter. The senate conferees held out against the house proposal to drop the clause placing pipe lines under federal control. As this was finally agreed to by senate and house, the pipe lines are to be regarded as common carriers, but are not prohibited from carrying their own products. Railroad and railway mail employees are exempted from the anti-pass amendment. The president signed the bill June 29.

Investigations and Inspections.
In both branches bills were introduced early authorizing investigations of the railroad monopolies, and a combination of these known as the Tillman-Gillespie-Campbell measure passed the house Jan. 23, and though signed by the president, was sharply criticised by him for not carrying funds and due authority. The money was appropriated later, and under this authority the interstate commerce commission has already unearthed a vast amount of graft and crookedness in railroad and oil industries.

The pure food bill, which passed the senate Feb. 21, 63 to 4, was also in line with this federalizing tendency. It did not pass the house until June 23, 1906 to 17, and then with a number of amendments which endangered its final passage. In its final shape the provision affecting state rights or state and municipal control over the original package was cut out. As to blended whiskies, the package must be labeled "blended" or "mixed." The senate's provision remained requiring labels to state the amount of alcohol contained in food packages, but not in bottled drugs. This favors the patent medicine people. It is made a misdemeanor for any person to manufacture or sell any food, drug, medicine or liquor which is adulterated or misbranded or which contains any poisonous or deleterious substances. For violation the penalty is $500 fine and one year's imprisonment. The law goes into effect Jan. 1, 1907.

The greatest sensation of the session came from the president's investigation of the charges against the Chicago beef packers as presented in Sinclair's novel, "The Jungle." For fear of what the Neill-Reynolds report might contain the senate passed the Beyeridge meat inspection amendment to the agricultural bill May 26 without opposition. Then when influences in the house committee on agriculture were seeking to weaken this bill the fear of greater losses through prolonged agitation brought the friends of the packers to agree to a substitute satisfactory to the president. This placed the cost of inspection on the federal government and did not require the packers to date the labels on their meat packages. Rather than see the entire bill fail, as the senate conferees said at last, they decided to recede on these and some minor points. An appropriation of $3,000,000 was made to cover the inspection expense.

The national quarantine bill, virtually putting state and local health authorities under federal control for the purpose of fighting contagious diseases, passed the senate April 2 and the house next day with little opposition.

In January, McCall of Massachusetts proposed a $15,000 appropriation for the president's traveling expenses. But near the end of the session a bill appropriating $25,000 for that purpose passed both houses, in the senate by a close party vote. Democrats regarded it as extravagant and unconstitutional.

A New Star on the Flag.

The statehood muddle, left over from the preceding congress, was one of the most difficult tangles to be unraveled. Under the leadership of Speaker Cannon a Republican insurrection against joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico was crushed, and the bill was passed Jan. 24, 194 to 150, the insurgents numbering forty-three. On March 9 the senate passed the statehood bill with provision only for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state. The bill finally emerged from conference under a compromise agreement providing for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as the state of Oklahoma and authorizing Arizona and New Mexico to hold a plebiscite on joint statehood next fall. This was approved by both houses and became a law with the president's signature June 16.

Notwithstanding the disagreement over the immigration bill the house bill making uniform the conditions for naturalization was adopted by the senate on June 29. Declaration must be made two years in advance. Anarchists and polygamists are barred.

For Lock Canal at Panama.

The house was the first to go on record in favor of the lock type for the Panama canal, and the senate followed suit June 21, 36 to 31. By a party vote the senate directed that American products and manufactures should be used in the construction of the canal, and in this the house agreed.

On Jan. 27 the house adopted the bill authorizing the construction of the Lake Erie and Ohio ship canal, and on June 18 it passed the senate, 41 to 11.

After standing pat against the onslaughts of the tariff revisionists during most of the session the majority permitted the passage of the bill placing denatured alcohol on the free list. This is expected to be a great benefit to many industries requiring power machines or vehicles.

Another bill which strengthens the arm of the executive in striking at the predatory trusts by preventing corporations from getting immunity because of testimony before a government bureau becomes a law.

Labor interests, though angered at the failure of the eight hour bill to even come to a vote, were pleased somewhat by the passage of the employers' liability act making interstate carriers liable for injuries to employees in the absence of prescribed safety appliances and regulations.

Other measures of general interest which passed both houses were: Authorizing the return of unidentified Confederate flags.

Abolishing the grade of lieutenant general.

Adding $5,000 to each state's quota for agricultural experiment stations.

Prohibition of gambling in the territories.

Provision for marking Confederate graves in the north.

To reorganize our army medical corps.

Important Bills That Failed.

The Philippine tariff bill, which was one of the pet administration measures and which was forced through the house by making a concession of 25 per cent of the Dingley rates on sugar, tobacco and rice, by the vote of 255 to 72 as early as Jan. 16 was put to sleep effectively in the senate committee on the Philippines through a combination of Democrats and stand pat Republican senators. The committee voted 8 to 5 against reporting this cherished administration measure, and the efforts to bring about a reconsideration proved futile.

The senate on June 5 tabled the proposed constitutional amendment permitting a federal divorce law.

The house defeated by a large majority the Adams bill authorizing whipling posts for wife beaters in the District of Columbia.

The senate on Feb. 14 voted 38 to 27 in favor of the ship subsidy bill establishing thirteen new contract mail lines to Central American, South African, Australian and Pacific island ports at the rate of $5 per ton a year for the foreign trade and $6.50 per ton for the colonial trade. It includes provision for a naval reserve force by payment of retainers to officers of subsidized vessels. This measure is stranded, however, in the unfriendly house committee on the merchant marine.

A new bill to restrict and regulate immigration, which passed the senate May 23, contained provision for an educational test—namely, the ability to understand the English language—and raised the head tax from $2 to $5, while creating a commission to investigate the entire subject. When, however, the house passed this bill June 26 the educational test and the head tax were stricken out, and the senate refusing to agree, the bill died in conference.

Throughout the session the senate committee on foreign relations resolutely resisted the administration's influence to report favorably the Santo Domingo treaty.

Other administration measures which fared badly in one house or the other were:

For federal control of life insurance companies.

Specific laws for prevention of election corruption.

Uncle Sam's Big Expense Account.

Just before the close of the session it became apparent that the total of appropriations to carry on the government for the next fiscal year would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $900,000,000. At this writing the exact figures have not been officially reported. It is customary for each party to insert in the record a week or two after the end of the session a statement of the appropriations and its own explanation thereof. This total recalls the outcry that was made only fifteen years ago, when the Fifty-first congress, under Reed's speakership, appropriated a little over $1,000,000,000 in the two years of its existence. Replying to the criticism that it was a "billion dollar congress," Reed said, "It is a billion dollar country." Even the Fifty-fifth congress, which covered much of the Spanish war expenses, spent only $1,553,000,000 in its two years; hence, at the pace set by this first session, the Fifty-ninth congress is certain to outstrip all its predecessors in the matter of public expenditures. To the criticism of the minority the dominant party replies that the country has grown in all directions. As a matter of fact, the numerous investigations and federal inspections provided for have added largely to the cost of government.

The approximate amounts carried by the different appropriation bills and some extraordinary appropriations were as follows:

Permanent annual	$14,471,820
Postoffice	191,635,328
Pensions	104,245,500
Naval	102,071,656
Army	71,817,165
Fortifications	6,053,993
Military academy	1,645,000
Sundry civil	9,800,000
Legislative, executive and judicial	102,300,000
District of Columbia	29,740,000
Urgent deficiency	10,181,206
General deficiency	15,000,000
Agricultural	11,645,000
Indian	9,200,000
Diplomatic and consular	3,023,594
Public buildings	25,000,000
Extra appropriation for 18th-mian canal	11,000,000
San Francisco earthquake	2,500,000

Senate's Action on Treaties.

After having refused to ratify the Santo Domingo treaty, for which the administration had done its utmost, the senate agreed just before adjournment that the Moroccan treaty should come to a vote not later than Dec. 12 next before it would die by limitation. The Japanese copyright treaty was ratified Feb. 28 and the trademark treaty with Roumania May 4.

The death of Senator Gorman of Maryland left the minority without its leader, and Senator Blackburn of Kentucky was chosen as the new leader. Two other senators, Platt of Connecticut and Mitchell of Oregon, were claimed by death, the latter after his conviction in the land fraud case had made his further attendance impossible. Senator Burton of Kansas was compelled to resign after the supreme court had approved his conviction on the charge of using his official position for pecuniary gain. Representatives who died were Castor of Pennsylvania, Patterson of Pennsylvania, Marsh of Illinois and Lester of Georgia, the last having been killed by falling through a skylight in a Washington apartment house. The new faces in the senate were those of La Follette, from Wisconsin; Gearin, from Oregon; Benson, from Kansas, and Whyte, from Maryland.

The thanks of congress were extended to General Horace Porter for his efforts in finding the grave of Admiral John Paul Jones.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.
Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.
The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.
Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.
Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.
It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.
If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.
You may have a sample bottle by mail. Some of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

BEGAN TEACHING IN LICKING CO.

HAD FIRST COLORED PUPIL TO RECEIVE FREE INSTRUCTION IN STATE OF OHIO.

Aged Woman Lives in Columbus and Would Renew Once More Old Acquaintances.

Bowed down with the weight of years and with rapidly falling health and strength, Mrs. Eunice Seegar, widow of the late Dr. John R. L. Seegar, desires to meet again some of the now elderly persons who were one time her pupils in the old Rich street school building when she taught the first graded school in Columbus, says the Columbus Sunday Dispatch. Mrs. Seegar, who was Miss Eunice L. Falley, is almost 83 years old and lives with her daughter, Miss Nora Seegar at 542 West Third avenue. Mrs. Seegar has had a remarkable career as a teacher.

She began the work when she was but 13 years of age in Licking county and shortly after her first experience she was employed as a teacher in a private school in Granville, where she gave instructions to Billy Marshall, a slave boy, whose master was visiting friends in Granville at the time, and who was probably the first negro to receive public free instruction in Ohio. That instruction awoke in him an ambition and he succeeded later in earning sufficient money to buy his freedom and come north to live. Among her intimate friends of the present, Mrs. Seegar enjoys a close acquaintance with the famous Dr. Booker T. Washington, of the Tuskegee Institute. They have great admiration for one another.

It was in 1840 according to the date of the certificate which Mrs. Seegar still has, that she taught under Dr. Lord, then superintendent of public instruction in the old Rich street school building, which had but three rooms. The principal of the building was her brother-in-law, Charles Webster, the father of Helen Webster, who afterwards taught for years in the new Rich street building which is no longer in use except for an interurban railway station. Miss Webster taught many years in that building, but afterwards went to Denver where she has been a teacher in the public schools for the past twenty years.

Mrs. Seegar is the last of a family of eleven children, all of whom were teachers. She was born near Granville and was educated in that place. She comes from a revolutionary family, her grandfather, Richard Falley, being one who assisted in the famous Boston tea party and also served in the Revolutionary war. The late General Walcott began his school work under Mrs. Seegar and in his later years frequently visited her at her home. He and eight other aged men of the town who were much interested in their old teacher in her later years have died; but one is living, and she has lost trace of practically all of her other pupils. There may be some in Columbus who remember well the first school picnic, of which there is any record. It was held in what is now Goodale park when the penitentiary prisoners were clearing the woods from that spot. Dr. Goodale was present at the picnic and made the address. The park was afterwards named for him. Mrs. Seegar, then Miss Falley, had charge of the children, and she secured from their permission to share their luncheon with the convict workmen.

Mrs. Seegar remembers the names of a few of her pupils as her memory has become very defective on account of her great age, but she remembers one, Elizabeth M. A. Fenton, of whom she has long since lost any trace. Frank Stimmel, who now lives on King avenue, was one of her pupils when she taught south of the city. She later taught where Clintonville is now located.

If there are any persons in Columbus or vicinity who attended Mrs. Seegar's school they would afford her a great deal of pleasure if they could call to see her at her home. She has long been an invalid and is not able to get about. She lives largely in the past and would certainly remember any who called to see her—any whom she knew during her career as a teacher. She has the distinction of being the oldest living teacher in Franklin county and the first teacher of a graded school in Columbus.

The intense heat of the past week has been very hard on Mrs. Seegar, and while she has retained her mental faculties unimpaired, she has suffered a sinking spell which the family physician considers serious and it has left her in a critical condition.

MISS HILLIARD

Daughter of Col. J. V. Hilliard Receives Scholarship in Voice at Conservatory of Music.

New England Conservatory of Music has a world-wide reputation and well it may, for it has stood for years as the leading center of music culture in the United States.

Situated as it is in one of the most commanding as well as beautiful avenues in Boston, its building being of solid white marble, and its surroundings classic, what more appropriate spot could possibly have been selected? It was my good fortune only recently during a sojourn in Boston, attending the meetings of the American Medical Association to make a close inspection into the workings, as well as management of this temple dedicated to music. I was very forcibly impressed with the perfect order which pervaded the entire building. I was creditably informed that there are three thousand pupils at present in attendance, coming as they do from every quarter of the globe. I was ushered into the reception room, and at the threshold was confronted with a very large life-sized bronze statue of Beethoven, the immortal composer. The room was also very artistically adorned with portraits of many of the leading musical composers. I was taken through the entire building, the rooms being admirably arranged for instruction in the various departments of music. Each room had a very fine piano, the rooms were well lighted and the ventilation perfect. I was entertained most charmingly in the Sonoma frat room the entertainment having been given by the pupils of the institution. The music was both classical and of a high order of excellence. I met the preceptress of Dana Hall and her welcome was most cordial. The Misses Gladys and Bright Hilliard have just returned home, having spent the past year in this famous institution. It will be very gratifying to the many friends of Miss Gladys Hilliard to know that she received the scholarship in voice. To those who are contemplating taking a course of vocal or instrumental culture I know of no institution of the kind in our country so well equipped in all its appointments, for the highest order of musical culture as the New England Conservatory of Music.

INTERURBAN CAR MISSED SWITCH

Rear Trucks Struck Steel Girders of Trust Building, But Nobody Was Injured.

East bound interurban car No. 63 in charge of Motorist Haricot and Conductor Taggart, missed the switch at the corner of Third street and the north side, at 5:45 Sunday evening, the rear truck running up Third street until they struck the steel girders of the Trust building, which are lying near the tracks. The car was well filled with passengers but fortunately nobody was injured. The rear trucks were badly damaged by the force of the contact with the girders and the step where the car struck was torn loose.

It seems that unfortunate circumstances followed the men in charge of this car, for it was this car which missed the switch at Third and Mound in Columbus but a few days ago.

HANDY MAN IS FRANK TINGLER

PULLS TEETH, SHOES HORSES, REPAIRS WATCHES, IS A TINNER AND PLUMBER.

Dresden Claims Most Pronounced Jack of All Trades of Any Town in State of Ohio.

Dresden, July 2.—This little city, in northern Muskingum county, lays claim to possessing the most pronounced jack of all trades in the state of Ohio, and, strange to relate, he contradicts the popular saying by being proficient in all of them.

A few years ago Frank Tingler located here and opened a small jewelry store, repairing of clocks and watches being his specialty, though carried a very fair stock for sale purposes. One day his uncle, a dentist, was absent, and a patient came in to have a tooth extracted. Tingler volunteered to do the work and accomplished the task satisfactorily to patient and himself. Thereafter, his uncle soon removing to another place he combined dentistry with jewelry, and many sets of false teeth in this section were made by him. Still Tingler did not have enough to keep him busy all the time, and he decided to introduce another department into his menagerie of occupations. This time it was blacksmithing, and today he frequently leaves his jewelry bench or the dental chair and shoes horses or mends a wagon tire or fixes up a mowing machine for some farmer patron. In this, too, he seems to excel.

A year or so ago natural gas invaded Dresden, and found the village without a plumber. This was "nuts" for Tingler and he added that business to his other enterprises, with the result that all most all the natural gas connections were made by him or his employees. It is but a step from plumbing to tinning and slating, so a roofing department was added, and now Tingler is mixed up in all these trades and is apparently doing a rushing business at one or all of them.

MARION COUPLE ELOPES TO WED

Marion, O., July 2.—Just one year ago Peck Comer, Marion's Brother-in-law and leading business man, and Miss Evelyn Mae Landon, the belle of Jackson, where they were wed.

The first intimation of their marriage, however, was made known yesterday, through a note left by the bride to her mother before departing with her husband for Clark's Lake, Michigan, where, according to the note, they spent their honeymoon year and expect to spend it every year as long as they live. The news caused a sensation.

STAR

PLUG CHEWING TOBACCO

"Star" is always the chew that is chosen when a choice is offered. It has quality that no other plug equals—that's why its sales surpass those of any five other kinds.

None but the best leaf ever gets under a "Star" tag—the ripe, sweet, leaf that is so elastic and lasting. And because it's the best quality it lasts longest, chews choicest and proves far more economical than other kinds. Buy a plug and see.

Four Persons Seriously Injured in an Accident.

South Bend, Ind., July 2.—Running 35 miles an hour an automobile owned and driven by Postmaster D. A. Shaw of Mishawaka, Indiana, turned over three times at Osceola, severely injuring Shaw and three other occupants of the car, Mrs. J. A. Winn and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Schuyler. It is said that the accident was caused by the failure of the steering gear to work at a curve in the road. Mrs. Winn, wife of an Episcopal preacher at Mishawaka, was the most seriously hurt, both legs being broken, besides internal injuries. The four occupants of the automobile were unconscious when found, and it is feared that one or more fatalities may result from the accident.

CITY IN A SKYSCRAPER

Preacher's Scheme to Build One Along Christian Lines.

WILL BE ERECTED IN CHICAGO

Rev. Dr. George F. Hall Plans a Church, University, Hotel and Stores, All in One Building, For Ambitious Young Folks—To Provide Good Society For Poor Workers.

Undiscouraged by the foreclosure proceedings against his Chicago-Texas Land and Lumber company, Dr. George F. Hall, pastor of the independent congregation which worships in the Bush Temple theater, promises to carry the enterprise to a successful issue and to build in Chicago a "Christian temple" at a cost of $5,000,000, says a Chicago special dispatch to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

At his offices in the Security building Dr. Hall spoke enthusiastically and confidently of both propositions.

The "Christian temple" is to be an eighteen story skyscraper on the North Side in the vicinity of Lincoln park. Dr. Hall, who is the originator of the idea, has planned a complete Christian city under one roof. The main purpose is to provide good society for the working young men and women of Chicago who are now compelled to live in cheap rooms and are deprived of all social diversion.

Five floors of the temple are to be devoted to a university which will accommodate 12,000 pupils who must obtain their education at night, if at all.

In the building there will be 3,500 rooms, and each room will be rented to two young men or two young women at a rate, per individual, of $2.50 a week. The young people will have their clubs, lodges, societies, parties, etc., all under one roof.

The auditorium will be one of the most splendid in Chicago if Dr. Hall's plans are carried to fulfillment. It will seat 12,000 at one time, and will be so arranged that the stage will be in the center of the auditorium.

In the eighteen story temple there will be banquet halls, restaurants, laundries, rooms for servants and attendants, a bank, chapel, recreation rooms, study rooms, etc. In fact, the young people need not go out of the temple to live a complete life.

Dr. Hall declared he was in New York recently and talked with a building firm, and was assured that the money with which to finance the Christian temple would be forthcoming whenever he decided to launch the enterprise.

TAFT MOST POLITE OF MEN.

Gave His Car Seat to Three Women, Justice Brewer Told Yale Men.

At the Yale alumni meeting the other day in New Haven Justice Brewer was one of the speakers, says the New York Sun. He began by referring to the many colored costumes which confronted him and added, "And those gentlemen in the striped garb would make us think perhaps that they had recently retired from the United States senate."

Speaking of Secretary Taft, he said: "Now, Secretary Taft is the politest man alive. I heard that recently he arose in a street car and gave his seat to three women."

In President Hadley's address his main suggestion, that Yale have fewer professors and pay them better, was received with surprise, but with some enthusiasm. He said rather bluntly:

"Yale would be better off if one-half of the faculty were to be dropped (I will not say which half) and the pay of the other correspondingly raised."

President Hadley told a new class room story of Professor Thomas Lounsbury in announcing the latter's retirement from the faculty. He said:

"Professor Lounsbury was teaching an inattentive class. He turned to them and said: 'Gentlemen, bear with me a few minutes. I have yet a few pearls to cast.'"

Acadia in Missouri.

The Acadia assembly is a new Missouri enterprise, says the Missouri Farmers' Herald. Robertus Love is the organizer. Aug. 18 to 31 is the first annual encampment, and the summer session of the state, where the breezes blow ever from the southward, is to be the site. There are Chautauquas without number, but this Love affair is to be the Acadia, which is entirely different. The assembly would be an Acadia even though it was held at Hoboken or Kalamazoo. It will be more so at a place so beautiful and bonny as Acadia. Some sort of organization will be effected by these forces which are working toward the restoration of the independence of men by inducing people to get out of the clutch of city slavery and live the natural life—the rural or the simple life. John Burroughs' creed has been adopted as the shibboleth of the Acadia.

Rutgers Professor on Long Walk.

Professor Edwin Bell Davis, professor of romance languages at Rutgers college in New Brunswick, N. J., accompanied by his son Donald, started the other morning on a walking tour to the Adirondacks, where he will remain until the reopening of college in the fall, says the New York Tribune. Last winter Professor Davis had a severe attack of typhoid fever and thinks this way of passing his vacation will build him up for his fall work. For the last five years Professor Davis has taken long walking tours. The trampers took with them guns, fishing rods and a tent.

The Madam (who is giving a servant's ball to butler): "We shall begin with a square dance, and I shall want you to be my partner."

MURDER CASES IN CIRCUIT COURT

BOTH KERLIN AND COLLINS ARE RELEASED ON $5000 BONDS
EACH.

Marriage Licenses—Realty Transfers.
Daily News Budget From the Court House.

Bills of exceptions have been filed in the murder cases against George Kerlin and George Collins, for the purpose of taking the cases to the Circuit court for a review. Defendants were both sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary for manslaughter, and it is to reverse these sentences that the proceedings in the Circuit court will be prosecuted.

The bills of exceptions are voluminous and allege numerous errors of the trial judge when the case was tried in the Common Pleas court.

Both defendants are now out on a $5,000 bond.

The bills of exceptions were prepared by Court Stenographer C. C. Cooper.

Laird Not Insane.

The recently wedded wife of Frank T. Laird, better known as "Jeff" Laird, filed an affidavit in Probate court late Saturday afternoon, charging her husband with insanity. The court issued a warrant for Laird's arrest and he was brought into court, and a careful examination was made by Drs. Henry Day and J. P. H. Stedem, at the conclusion of which he was declared not to be insane, and was ordered discharged.

Hearing in Probate.

The hearing of the peace warrant case of Ohio on relation of Nellie Green came up before Probate Judge Brister Monday. The same parties have a divorce case pending in the Probate court. Both parties reside in Bennington township, and a cloud of witnesses were summoned by both parties. At the hour of going to press the indications are that a settlement will be reached. Kibler & Montgomery are attorneys for plaintiff, Smythe & Smythe for the defendant.

Green is charged with assaulting his wife in the affidavit, and that she feared for her life.

Criminal Day in Probate.

Monday was criminal day in Probate court and the following cases were disposed of:

State of Ohio vs. Howard Elwell, application for peace warrant; continued until next term upon application of defendant.

State vs. A. H. Jones, employing a minor after night; continued until next term; prosecuting witness absent.

Ohio vs. Oscar Wilderson, petit larceny; on motion of prosecuting attorney security for costs was demanded and case was continued.

Ohio vs. Robert Forgraves, peace warrant; passed.

Ohio vs. David Skill, petit larceny, and Ohio vs. B. A. Shrader, larceny; dismissed for want of security of costs, by complaining witness.

White Still in Jail.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus was made in Probate court late Saturday afternoon by Attorney Phil B. Smythe on behalf of Robert White, who is confined in the common jail under a sentence of 20 days, imposed by Mayor Cantam. Police force.

The contention of the plaintiff was that as he had a right to a jury trial the mayor had no jurisdiction in the case.

Judge Brister ruled under authority of (1536-77) R. C. Statutes, of DUTY FIRST.

AT OYSTER BAY FOR THE SUMMER

PRESIDENT IS WELCOMED BY THE TOWNSPEOPLE TO SAG-AMORE HILL.

Executive Room Selected—Beveridge
Gets Pen—Secretary Loeb's Movements.

Oyster Bay, July 2.—President Roosevelt's vacation has begun in earnest. According to the official encampment book, no visitor is expected today and the President may devote his entire time to recreation, if he pleases. There will be a certain amount of work for him every day in the line of official correspondence. Secretary Loeb of Laeta will make daily trips from the office in the village to Sagamore Hill and will take out to the President all letters requiring his attention.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 2.—President Roosevelt, who arrived here Sunday from Washington, was met at the station by Mrs. Roosevelt and Kewitt. His journey from Washington ended with the three-mile drive to Sagamore hill. When the president stepped from the train Kewitt greeted him, Mrs. Roosevelt waiting in the wagonette. Former Sheriff Jerome Johnson cut one more notch in his record of being the first of the townspeople to shake the presidential hand. Many others in the little gathering at the station uttered words of greeting and welcome. The attempt of a man with a camera to snap the president as he took his seat by Mrs. Roosevelt was interfered with by the activity of the secret service men.

Secretary Loeb left the party at Long Island City to meet Mrs. Loeb from Albany. They reached the Wright cottage, which they are to occupy during the summer, in the afternoon. The executive offices over Moore's grocery and provision store have been fitted up for work.

The president has just sent the following letter to Senator Beveridge of Indiana: "I send you herewith the pen with which I signed the agricultural bill, containing the meat inspection clauses. You were the man who first called my attention to the abuses in the packing houses. You were the legislator who drafted the bill which in its substance now appears in the amendment to the agricultural bill and which will enable us to put a complete stop to the wrongdoing complained of. The pen is worth nothing in itself, but I am glad to send it to you as the expression of my acknowledgment of your services."

President Roosevelt declared the 30th longest session of the session of congress just concluded. In the session that has just closed the congress has done more substantial work for good than any congress has done at any session since I became familiar with public affairs. The legislation has been along the lines of real constructive achievement of the most practical and effective type, and but after all has been enacted into law which was of an importance so great that it is fair to say that the enactment of any one of them alone would have made the session memorable.

Such, for instance, as the railroad rate bill, the meat inspection measure, the pure food bill, the bill for free alcohol in the army, the consular reform bill, Panama canal legislation, the new graduated bill and the regularization bill.

Believing the officers of the Senate and the House of Representatives to be the most competent and patriotic body of men and women in the country, I am glad to announce that the company will be held in this country for the time being.

ICE CASES ARE CONTINUED TILL NEXT TERM

The cases brought against Wm. M. Zentmyer, Milton Francis, Ferd Mohlenbach, George R. Young and Samuel Inhoff Jr. by City Solicitor Frank A. Bolon, who charged them with a violation of the Valentine law, by combining to raise the price of ice, in restraint of competition, was continued by Judge Brister. Monday until the next term of court by consent of all parties. The women have reduced the price of ice to the old rate and it is probable that the cases will be motioned.

The five ice dealers were bound over by Mayor McCleary to the Probate court, and gave bond in the sum of $50 for their appearance in Probate court July 2.

JAMES CLARK OF GRANVILLE IS ABLE TO WALK FOUR MILES
IN 50 MINUTES.

Believes He Could Defeat the Old
Timers in Cleveland Walking Match.

Granville, O., July 2.—The old man who took part in the walking match in Cleveland the other day, covered the ground between the lake and Wade Park at a pretty lively pace, especially when the age of the participants is considered.

Granville has a good walker who thinks he could do as well if not better than those who were in the Cleveland contest. He is Mr. James Clark, and he will be 86 years old next month.

Just 50 years ago Mr. Clark walked six miles in 60 minutes, and a week ago Tuesday he walked four miles in 60 minutes over a rough dirt road in Licking county. The roads here are not bad hills, so Mr. Clark turns he could easily walk four miles on Euclid avenue in 50 minutes.

Mr. Clark, notwithstanding his advanced age, is hale and hearty. He has never used any medicine, and is a

ARCHIE S. WHITE IS CONFIDENT DEAL WILL BE ACCOMPLISHED

Former Newark Man is at the Head of a Syndicate That is Negotiating for Lease of Cleveland
Artificial Gas Companies.

Cleveland, O., July 2.—Archie S. White, formerly of Newark, now of New York City, head of the syndicate that is negotiating for the lease of the two Cleveland artificial gas companies, does not doubt that the deal will be made. The leasing of the Cincinnati gas properties has been delayed until September 1, but Mr. White thinks everything will be closed up there within a week or 10 days. That he says, will have a salutary effect on Cleveland negotiations.

Mr. White was in Cleveland two hours Sunday afternoon on his way from Cincinnati to New York. With his brother, Rolton W. White, president of the Cleveland Salt company, and G. L. Meade, the secretary, of this city, and a dozen well known financiers from the East, Mr. White put in several busy days in Cincinnati. The Eastern men were Oscar G. Gubbe, man, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company, of New York; W. Babcock, Charles H. Werner, A. B. Leach, B. A. Wordeman, J. Alvin Young, of New York, and J. J. Buchanan, president of the Pittsburgh Trust company. These men represented

AUTO BURNS UP NEAR KIRKERSVILLE

THIRD EXPERIENCE OF VERY UNFORTUNATE NATURE ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

L. F. Chamberlain Robbed and Hurt.
He Was on His Way to Buckeye Lake.

Columbus, July 2.—Utterly helpless to prevent the destruction which was going on before his very eyes, L. F. Chamberlain, residing at 1018 Mt. Vernon avenue, watched his $1000 automobile burn up in the middle of the road, about one mile and a half east of Kirkersville, Saturday. Mr. Chamberlain was in company with E. F. Berry, an attorney in the Outlook building, and the couple were looking forward to an enjoyable day's fishing at Buckeye Lake. They returned home on the interurban car after lifting the charred "carcass" to a ditch in the side of the road, by means of fence rails.

Three weeks ago Saturday night, Mr. Chamberlain, who is employed at the Columbus Automobile company, and who is also employed as a skilled engineer on the Panhandle road, was robbed of $100 somewhere on High street between Buttle avenue and Spring street. About two weeks ago he was badly burned while working on a machine in the automobile factory. He hit an electric light globe with a hammer bursting it and causing his shirt to ignite, inflicting painful burns. The automobile accident capped the climax and the charm is broken.

Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Berry had been compelled to stop the auto about a mile and a half east of Kirkersville because a link had come out of the chain. Mr. Berry was looking for the link in the road, when Mr. Chamberlain yelled "Look out, she's a goin'." Mr. Berry looked around to see his partner flying from the auto as fast as his legs would carry him. The machine was in flames and a few minutes later the gasoline tank exploded.

The tires burned from the wheels and the entire machine soon collapsed, a total wreck. Fence rails were used in pushing it to the side of the road in order to clear the highway. The cause of the fire is thought to have been due to a hot exhaust pipe which formed a combustible gas with the vapor which arose from the leaking gasoline.

Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Berry, unable to proceed toward their fishing place, walked a half mile and boarded an interurban car for home. What was left of the machine was brought to Columbus Saturday afternoon. The owner had just purchased new tires and new lamps, and fitted on a top. The machine was insured for $800.

BOY'S LEG BROKEN IN PECULIAR WAY

In a jump from the back of a pony on a merry-go-round located in East Newark, a young man landed on the leg of Thomas Donahue, the 15 year old son of William Donahue, a R. O. employee. The result was the fracture of the large bone of the left leg just above the ankle. Young Donahue was removed to his home on Guilford street, where a physician was called to reduce the fracture.

Mr. Houck would not make a statement as to his future plans, but stated without hesitation that he intended to take a rest. He has been offered a place by the governor on the state railroad commission. It is highly probable that he will return to this city to again take up the practice of law.

Sweep for Johnson.
Zanesville, July 2.—The judicial primaries in Muskingum county resulted in practically a clean sweep for Johnson, it being estimated that not more than three Gates delegates were chosen. However, for the second nomination many of the delegates favor McGinnis, of Noble, and the proposed combination of Johnson and Mackey may fall through.

Bridge Man Indicted.
Lima, O., July 2.—Harry Hammond, who was found guilty here Saturday night, was employed by the Canton Bridge company and was, together with others, indicted for alleged violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, the penalty for which is a fine and imprisonment. Indictments are also pending here against Huston & Cleveland of Columbus, the Canton, Oregon and Bellefontaine Bridge companies, the Bracken Bridge company of Cincinnati, and the Cleveland Construction company, and their several agents.

Woman Held.
Youngstown, O., July 2.—Mrs. Jennie Anderson, 33, a Danish woman, is locked up at the police station on suspicion, in connection with the death of Elsie, her six-year-old stepdaughter. The police and doctors believe that the child was beaten to death. The body presents a mass of bruises, and punctures on the face, head and body look as though they had been made with a nail.

Fatal Saloon Row.

CAPT. J. H. SMITH AT EIGHTY-SIX

Becomes President of the Licking
County Infirmary Directors,
Mr. Norris Secretary.

Saturday was visiting day at the Licking County Infirmary, and the members of the Board of Directors were there to pilot visitors over the premises.

Burr D. Jackson and Captain Jas. H. Smith resigned the offices of president and secretary respectively, and new officers were chosen. Captain Smith being elected president and Mr. Albert Norris secretary.

The new president of the Board is 84 years of age and is a Mexican war veteran, but he is very spry and has no use for the half dozen canes that have recently been presented to him. Captain Smith says he has to put on his "speed" occasionally, but nobody would suspect that he is half as old as he claims to be.
